The Psychology Behind a Memorable Team Name

Your team name isn't just for the score sheet; it's an integral part of the table quiz experience. Encourage your team to embrace it. You could even create a small, fun team banner or use it as a starting point for team banter. When the quizmaster announces your name, a good one can elicit a cheer or a groan from rival tables, adding to the electric atmosphere. It's a small detail, but one that can elevate a good quiz night into a truly memorable one, fostering laughter, friendly competition, and a strong sense of team spirit.
