- Students can bring their used textbooks to the bookstore during designated buyback periods.
- The staff will evaluate the textbooks for condition and demand.
- Students will receive a cash offer based on the evaluation.

Participating in the buyback program not only helps students financially but also promotes sustainability by recycling educational materials.

Tips for Choosing the Right Textbooks

Selecting the right textbooks is crucial for academic success. Here are some tips to help students make informed choices:

Consult Course Syllabi

Before purchasing or renting textbooks, students should always consult their course syllabi. Professors often provide a list of required and recommended texts, ensuring that students acquire the correct materials.

Consider Edition Updates

Textbooks frequently undergo updates with new editions. While older editions may be cheaper, students should verify with their instructors whether the latest edition is necessary for the course, as some may contain critical updates or changes in content.

Explore Alternative Formats

Students should consider their preferred learning style when choosing textbooks. If they are comfortable with digital formats, opting for eBooks can provide additional features that enhance the learning experience.
